

ThanhVu Huy Nguyen: CS-CEC Annual Activity Report

Instructions The following Annual Activity Report is to be filled out and given to the Department Chair by 11/4/2022. This report will serve as the basis for your annual faculty review and should include all of your activities during the past fiscal year. If no form is submitted, then your annual review will be based only on what the chair knows about you and will lead to an unfavorable review.

The instructions on filling out the activity report are self-explanatory and completing the report should require a minimum amount of time to complete, particularly if you maintain an up-to-date CV, which I strongly recommend that you do. The purpose of this activity report is to provide yourself with your own personal evaluation of your annual accomplishments, and to provide the Chair with a consistent and easy to read document upon which to perform an annual review. In this report, you will be able to ensure that it is complete and contains everything important for a fair and accurate annual review.

For all information (except courses taught), you are to report only that activity that falls within the prior fiscal year, which is from July 1, 2021 – June 30, 2022. For example, for your Published Refereed Journal Papers (appeared or accepted in FY 2022), this category should only include those papers that appeared or were accepted over this time period. As stated in the instructions, list publications in IEEE standard format, grouped according to the categories that are defined, and indicate the names of student authors for whom you are the advisor in bold letters. If known, also list the impact factor of journals and conference proceedings.

The report also includes three optional questions regarding the impact of the Covid-19 crisis on your activities this year. In addition to that, please do not forget your personal statement that is described on the last page.

Finally, when you submit the report, please add your email id at the beginning of the file name so that your chair can easily differentiate the numerous faculty submissions.
